Stage Set for Fantasy; Queen Balloting Begins

Students Will Elect
Queen for First Time
In School History

Here they are! YOU pick the Queen!

One of the nine beauties pictured above will be crowned Queen of St. Joseph's 1949 Promenade Ball, which will be held in the fieldhouse the night of May 14. STUFF has assembled the pictures and printed them and now hands you the ball to carry over the goal line.

On page two of this edition will be found the official voting ballot. Vote for one candidate and drop the ballot in your hall ballot box or give it to your hall balloting official between now and next Wednesday, May 4. The ballot printed in this edition will be the only officially accepted vote.

Will Announce Winner

The next edition of STUFF, May 13, will carry the entire story on the Prom Queen winner, and will also announce her court of honor composed of the second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth place winners.

The 1949 Prom Queen Contest is the first of its kind ever held at St. Joseph's. It was brought about by this campus newspaper and submitted before the Junior Class for approval last January. The idea was adopted and put into effect with the hope that more interest and school spirit might develop through such an undertaking.

Large Crowd Expected

Meanwhile, plans for the Prom itself are coming along in fine order. 68 students were fitted for tuxedos last week, and a crowd of between 250 and 300 couples is expected to attend the spring affair which will be highlighted by the music of Buddy Di Vito.

Reservations are being taken in town at the Hoosier Inn and Rensselaer Hotel, and the decoration committee plans to get underway soon with the beautifying of the fieldhouse.

A baseball game between St. Joe and Eastern Illinois will be played here the afternoon before the night of the Prom, giving Joe Puma and his date something with which to occupy their time.

Summer Session Agenda Released By Registrar

Saint Joseph's College will offer six weeks of summer classes for undergraduate students who wish to continue their work in the summer. Students who wish to make up work or obtain additional credit towards a degree from other educational institutions, will find the courses adapted to their needs.

Students who are admitted to the six-weeks' session will register on Saturday, June 25, during the hours of 8:00 to 12:00 and 1:00 to 5:00 or on Sunday, June 26, from 1:00 to 5:00, at the office of the Registrar. Final examination will be given on Friday, August 5.

The regulations for enrollment are as follows:

1. Regular students of St. Joseph's are admitted under the scholastic regulations that apply for any semester.

2. Beginning Freshmen and students with advanced standing who wish to earn degrees at St. Joseph's must meet the regular

Large Dramatic Cast Starts 2-night Run On College Stage

Six weeks of intensive training and practice will culminate next Saturday night in the first presentation of the Columbian Players' newest production, On Borrowed Time. A three-act fantasy, the play is timed at close to two hours, and will run on both Saturday and Sunday nights, Apr. 30 and May 1.

These performances will mean the end of the biggest dramatic task confronting Mr. Ralph Cappuccilli since he began his job of moderator and director of the Columbian Players. Mr. Cappuccilli will carry the lead role of "Gramps", the doddering, drinking, swearing, but somehow likeable old man—the center of action on the stage.

Diminutive Actors

Richie Scharf, the football coach's son and Jimmie Dougherty, two diminutive actors, show promise of stealing several scenes by their precociousness. Despite their tender years, the young thespians, under the guiding hand of Mr. Cappuccilli, show a lot of talent.

Fr. Hiller Appointed To Advisory Board

The Rev. Joseph A. Hiller, local professor and director of Displaced Persons' Resettlement for the diocese of Lafayette, has been advised of his appointment as a member of the Advisory Committee on Displaced Persons to the Indiana Economic Council by Governor Henry F. Schricker.

In his letter to Father Hiller, Governor Schricker said that the committee was appointed in order that the "State of Indiana might best cooperate with the many organizations concerned with the resettlement of displaced persons within our borders."

The Committee will be serviced by the staff of the Economic Council and will assist business, industrial, labor, racial and service groups presently engaged in or interested in the DP program.

Cast Takes Time Out

Young Master Scharf, in particular, has put an amazing amount of lines to memory, and Jimmie Dougherty will be a typical 10-year-old, apple-stealing boy.

The set, showing a blue living room, a roofed porch, and a realistic apple tree, represent the combined efforts of the entire stage crew, with a few helping hands of the cast. The construction of the apple tree was the main task of Stage Manager Joe Condict and his assistant, Bob Zengler. Building the platforms that make up the sitting-room ranks next.

Construction Completed

With the assistance of Bob DeMuro, Jim Spliedt, Dick Kasmer, and Chuck George, who compose the stage crew, the building operations were completed in time for the final rehearsals, leaving Joe and Bob with nothing to worry about beyond the very intricate lighting system that will be used.

Jack Walsh and Ron Humphrey, the prop crew in person, smile proudly on the hound dog, .32 caliber revolver and an assorted group of bullfrogs collected by them.

YOU CAN DO YOUR BIT

The recent signing of the North Atlantic Pact by twelve important nations is an indication of the situation which exists in the world today. For the past few years—since the cessation of World War II—a line on the surface of the earth has been rapidly broadening into a chasm, on one side of which stand the forces of Democracy, on the other, the advocates of Communism.

Leaders of government are frantically seeking ways and means of bridging the chasm before the chaos and destruction of another conflict bursts upon the world. Communism stands for everything that all real Christians abhor. Never can there be any compromise with atheistic Communism, and for the moment only the blackest picture presents itself to a world that is crying for peace.

Next Sunday, the first day of May, will see thousands of Russians gathered in Moscow's Red Square to pay tribute to Lenin and Stalin and the revolution they have fostered. On the same day hundreds of thousands of Catholics will assemble in various cities throughout the world, and on public squares and in city parks will recite the Rosary for the conversion of Russia and for world peace.

In 1917 Our Lady of Fatima promised the world that peace would come and Russia would be converted only if men and women would repent of their sins, convert to God and turn to her Rosary. The month of May is a challenge to each of us. We can do our bit toward peace and for the conversion of Russia if we take our Rosary in hand each day, turn to our Heavenly Mother and ask her to take our petitions to the throne of her Son.

And there is another thing we here at St. Joseph's can do during the month of Mary to bring God's blessing on ourselves and the world. More than a year ago, at our own request the Perpetual Novena to Our Sorrowful Mother was introduced on the campus. On the night of its reception the chapel was crowded with students, who pledged themselves to continue the devotion each week and to pray for Russia and world peace. That pledge was kept! But, of late, the number who attend the Novena Devotion has not been impressive. Lack of devotion to Mary? Indifference? We should not like to make either accusation. But the fact remains—far greater numbers could and should be present. Is it too much to expect a greater turnout during the month of our Mother? Russia's conversion and world peace, both dear to Mary's Immaculate Heart, are still the intentions on Friday evenings. Show your devotion to your Heavenly Mother by your attendance at Her Novena!

CAMPUS BULL SESSION

Now that the season of Lent and Easter vacation have come to an end, this corner of the page thought that it might prove interesting to sit in on a campus bull session just to find out what the regular college guy is talking about as the school year pulls into the stretch. So, dropping in at the regular 9 a.m. coffee and doughnut rendezvous—Ye Olde Raleigh Halle—I sat in on the following conversation.

Young Moore: Wow! What a hectic vacation! It'll take me the rest of the week to catch up on my sleep. Hated to leave the ol' home town this time. Yes sir!

Young Shine: You know, boy, you know! The holidays ruined this kid's complete financial structure. . . . And what with the Prom coming up in a few weeks that isn't good, Mac, that isn't good at all.

Young Serewicz: The Prom doesn't worry me, it's those lousy final exams coming up.

Young Dolan: How about some pinochle?

Young Moore: Sure, Young Greif and I'll stand ya'.

Young Riede: Louisville, ah loves ya'. The Colonels wrapped up their first win today.

Young Leahy: The Colonels! What are you talking about, man! The Naptown Indians got that circuit all wrapped up. What's the matter, McGrath? You look like you lost your last friend.

Young McGrath: Aw, the Sox dropped their first two games, and the little woman went to Florida on a vacation. You guys think you got it rough.

Young Ronan: Well men, the Prom's coming around in fine shape. All's we need is the band, decorations, tuxes, reservations, and May 14.

Young Angermeier: I hear this year's Prom is going to be terrific. Buddy Di Vito's not a bad boy. I remember when he made himself a big name warbling for Harry James.

Young Moore: How do you know, Incompatible? . . . You weren't even born yet.

Young Galvin: Get a load of these lovelies in STUFF this time. A mighty nice lot of femininity. Who are you voting for, Ron?

Young Miniati: You know who I'm voting for. The little chick! She can't miss.

Young Santschi: (jogging in) Uh boodala be bop! Hiya cats! Hiya High De Moon!

All: Hiya, young Santschi!

This was my cue. I got over to my 10 o'clock class fast, before I was bopped on the head with a beep!

Student Returns To Find Life A Tedious Task

BY UTAH CUMMINGS

With his Easter fedora still a bit wet from the weatherman's mistake, and his new topcoat already wrinkled and smudged, Joe Puma, the Rensselaer Rover Boy, planted his feet firmly on Indiana soil again, drew a deep breath of Jasper County air, and looked forward to the last few weeks of frenzied study.

He turned his bloodshot eyes on his buddy and said, "Life sure gets teejus, don't it? I took home four books to study over Easter, and didn't even crack one of them." He gripped the books tighter under his arm, then his face lit up in a smile. "I saw a couple of real good movies, though. There was one, a sort of a detective story, that was a corker. I forget the name of it, now." He set his suitcase down to rest his arm and think a little. "Something like 'Knock the Door the Hell Off the Hinges', or something. It was good. Some kid from Maxwell Street in Chicago gets in trouble and gets sent to the chair."

Back to Fags

His buddy took a cigarette from a pack, lit it from the end of the one he was already smoking, and threw away the old one. He took a deep drag on the new one, inhaled slowly, smiled blissfully, and blew the smoke into the air. "Boy," he said, "am I glad Lent's finally over. I only smoked once all through it. Except St. Patrick's day, and that ain't really Lent." He smiled proudly. "I smoked nine packs since Holy Saturday, though."

They picked up their suitcases and climbed into a cab, and headed back to the campus of their Alma Mater.

"Hey, Joe," said the buddy, "did you see the Three Hours' services on Good Friday? Boy, that was terrific! At my church, the choir sang the Seven Words in English. Was it powerful!"

"Yeah," said Joe, "I saw it. It was good."

They got out of the cab, paid the fare, realized that they could now barely buy cigarettes for a week, and walked to their hall.

Term Papers Yet

"Hey, you got your term paper finished?" asked Joe.

"What are ya, crazy? All I got is my outline, no more."

"Yeah, that's what I thought," mused Joe. "I hear that some of the guys stayed over a couple of days to get their work caught up. Some of 'em didn't even get home until Saturday."

"A bunch of eager beavers, that's what they are. Just tryin' to raise the curve so us regular guys will flunk," said the buddy. "Boy, those guys tee me off."

"Yeah, me too."

They walked in silence to the door of the hall, entered, and started to their separate rooms.

"Take it easy, Joe."

"Yeah, you too."

Joe walked to his room, sat on the edge of his bed, and started to get ready to climb under the covers. He wondered if he should read that history. He looked at his watch. 2:00 a.m. He thought better of it and crawled in, convincing himself that next vacation, he was going to stay over a few days to get his work caught up.

Fr. Kenkel Honored By Literary Society

The Rev. Joseph B. Kenkel, professor of Economics and former president of St. Joseph's College, has recently been named to the Gallery of Living Catholic Authors at St. Louis. Father Kenkel is also listed in Who's Who and has distinguished himself by numerous articles on the profit-sharing aspects of industrial relations.

GAG BUSTERS

BY BEECH

It may get cold in Fond du Lac, Wis., but the women's hearts remain warm. This adage was proved again this week when John Woytych returned to the campus wearing the latest in "lipstick-smear" handkerchiefs. It is rumored that no less than five eligible "tomatoes" greeted John at the Fond du Lac depot. . . . Some people have it, and some people don't.

"Beverly" Lamkin's official record for a long-distance phone call has been broken unofficially. . . . Richard "Hook-line-and-sinker" O'Reilly is reported to have talked over one hour on a long-distance person to person. . . . If the girl could be located to verify the story the record would be made official. Unfortunately Gloria is away on business, so the story goes, or rather that's the story Dick is stuck with. . . . Cheer up, all's fair in love, war, and intramurals.

Speaking of record breaking, the title of "Mr. Hips" has also changed hands. . . . Just recently an argument over the dubious distinction sent students in West Seifert searching for a tape measure. George Byrwalter, the defending champion, with his solid 45-inches has been dethroned. . . . The new champion Louis Abbott has been taped at a prodigious 48½. The new king's crown does not appear to be in jeopardy unless "Jumpin'-Johnny" Andrick decides to come out of retirement.

Roger J. Clark takes top honors for the sharpest crack of the week. Looking at a brand new haircut purchased at one buck a throw by one of the returning students, Roger replied. . . . "Did you get it cut for a cap or a hat." Wally "I-Got-Plenty-of-Nothin'" Weisman is keeping his eyes open for sleight-of-hand masters after his adventurous episode in Chicago while waiting for the "Moan On" to bring him back to St. Joe. It seems that Wally was quietly sipping a cup of coffee when he noticed an identification card, which someone had evidently lost, lying on the floor. At closer surveillance, Wally found that the I.D. card belonged to him. He looked further and found his billfold also on the floor. . . . void of that filthy green stuff. As I said before, "Some people have it. . . . Some people don't." At any rate, Wally doesn't have to worry about it happening again. . . . He hasn't anything to lose now.

This week's Man of Distinction. . . . Tom Ward. He went home for the Easter holidays and finished his thesis. For his valiant and courageous effort beyond the call of duty, we award Tom a box of Mars Candy Bars and two tickets to the Palace Theater, good for any morning show.

Attention Dr. Naismith.

Ques. Has basketball always been played indoors?

Ans. No, I've seen it played in Jim's.

STUDENT COUNCIL SPEAKS

The Rev. Walter Pax, Dean of the College, spoke on the stability of the school calendar at the April 7 meeting of the Student Council. The talk was given at the monthly meeting held in the Student Council office in the Administration building.

Last year's school calendar was not dependable because of the changes that were made in the holiday dates complying with student petitions, Father Pax said, and as a result of these changes, plans were disrupted and the majority of the students seemed to be more displeased than pleased.

The Student Council, representing the student body, unanimously agreed to cooperate with the College Dean in establishing a calendar for the coming year. It was also agreed that after the new calendar is accepted it will be strictly adhered to.

Father Pax also commented on the presence of member Joe McGrath at the meeting of the National Catholic Education Association in Chicago. McGrath, senior delegate of the N.F.C.C.S. and delegated to represent the school at the Chicago meeting, gave a commendable talk on the duties of student government as it is practiced at St. Joseph's. Its student government policies were enthusiastically received by the representatives of the schools who attended the meeting.

John Lucas, president of the Student Council, suggested a guidance program for Parents' Day to be held on the campus, May 1. The guidance program resulted in a discussion of the ways and means whereby visiting parents could be easily informed of the Parents' Day schedule.

A committee was appointed to draw up plans to be submitted to the Rev. Alfred J. Zanolari, President of the College, for approval. If approved, an information booth will be established on the campus and members of the Student Council will split the information watches.

Action was also taken against the Public Welfare Act of 1949. Lucas reported the request of the diocesan director that a letter be written to Congressman Homer Capehart protesting the Public Welfare Act, the features of which will lead directly to totalitarianism in all welfare work, and eliminate all charitable endeavors. Secretary Howie Cummings was appointed to dispose of the matter. Further action has been promised by the N.F.C.C.S. and the Publications Office.

Corsage for Mom

Corsages will be presented by the Chicago Club to all mothers present on the campus for Parents' Day, May 1. The day will give students of St. Joseph's an opportunity to show their parents the numerous facilities of the college.

Condolence

The faculty and students of St. Joseph's extend their sympathy to James Prihoda on the death of his father.

SPORTSCASTING . . .

ATHLETIC officials have announced the addition of two more contests to the '49 baseball schedule . . . That southern road trip mentioned in this corner a few weeks ago finally materialized, and in the latter part of May the Puma diamond crew will embark on a two-day jaunt into southern Indiana and Ohio . . . The tour will include engagements with Xavier University at Cincinnati, May 23, and Earlham College at Richmond, May 24 . . . Negotiations were made for a tilt with Dayton University in Ohio; however, the Earlham game was substituted . . . Since several revisions of the St. Joe schedule have been made after its initial release, you may be confused as to just which game is to be played when and where . . . So, clip the following and hang it there on the wall next to that much looked-at photo of that certain someone . . .

HAPPENED to drop by the recreation room in Raleigh Hall the other day and couldn't help but notice the fine job Manager Roy Stone and his colleagues have been doing in keeping the pool tables and equipment in shape . . . A share of the credit goes also to the student body who have cooperated in making the new venture successful . . . The current set-up has all the earmarks of paying dividends, and Roy points out that thus far it has proved satisfactory despite the fact that warm outdoor weather has offered stiff competition.

THE REV. Edward Roof, athletic director, has asked that students kindly refrain from walking or playing on the tennis courts in street shoes . . . The clay courts are especially soft during the rainy spring months and highly susceptible to marking . . . Tennis shoes are SOP.

THE LOCAL campus was visited two weeks ago by Eddie Dancisak, a St. Louis Brown scout who looked over diamond prospects . . . Dancisak had his eye on two or three Puma players and watched them in action in the Chicago U. game.

REGIS College of Denver, Colo., walked off with honors in the National Catholic Invitational Basketball Tournament held in Denver recently . . . The Rangers also went places in the NAIB, defeating Indiana State before falling in defeat to Hamline in the finals . . . Incidentally, here's a thought: the NCIT is something on which the Pumas can set their sights next year!

OWNER-COACH George Halas will bring his Chicago Bears to St. Joseph's for the sixth consecutive season next summer . . . The Bears will set up training headquarters August 3, according to a report by college officials.

UNIVERSITY of Wisconsin baseballers used the local diamond for workouts last Saturday and Sunday afternoons and enjoyed their Easter dinner in the college refectory . . . On a southern road trip the Badgers were enroute to Lafayette for games with Purdue on Monday and Tuesday before moving into Ohio on Wednesday.

SPORTSGLANCING . . .

SOME people and things we've noticed on campus: Bud Clark's concern over the St. Louis Brownies in their season opener . . . Frank Lammers' daily practice sessions with his Herd of Turtles . . . Red Wallace with golf clubs at right shoulder trekking out to Curtis Creek . . . Andy Davey brandishing a tennis racquet and dashing out to practice . . . Pitchin' Pete Perlongo's plight with his over-sized baseball cap . . . Contends he doesn't know whether or not the batters see his curve, but is sure He doesn't . . . Pete's cap follows through along with his arm every time he hurls the ball . . . Ed Pluth's unorthodox but very effective tennis serve . . . Joe Moore hoarse after umpiring an intra-squad baseball game . . . Ray Patterson and George Peters chasing pop flies at local baseball games . . . Vito Gotautas' barbellling . . . More next time . . . if you like 'em.

★ INTRAMURALS ★

BY JOE MOORE

Intramural softball competition got underway on Monday, Apr. 25, inaugurating play both in the 12 and 16-inch divisions.

Officials report a record number of entries in the 12-inch loop as 11 hopeful nines embark on a spirited fight for the crown. Reputedly a strong contender for top position in the 12-inch category is Dan McDewitt's Peaceful Greeks, last season's champs. McDewitt will field a veteran aggregation. Other contenders expected to show strongly in the title race are the Youngsters, bolstered by the pitching of Bill Krodel, and the Mongolians with Bob Ryan handling the hurling chores.

Entries Listed

Entries in the 12-inch league include the Blitzkriegs, Dreadnoughts, Towners, Mongolians, Lazy Nine, Alfalfa Farm Boys, Herd O'Turtles, Goops, Bubs, Youngsters, and the Peaceful Greeks.

Five squads will vie for honors in the 16-inch class. The Daddy O's and Speedy Ten groups are expected to set the pace with the Windy City Bombers, Sleepers, and Dirty Sox battling for a share of the honors.

League officials are moulding plans for a play-off between respective winners in the 12-and 16 inch classes. Time permitting, the play-off will consist of two games, one each using the 12-and 16-inch softballs.

A portion of the schedule follows:

Don Tesmond Goes Route in Suffering Initial Loss, 6-0

With Dick Scheub hurling airtight ball, Valparaiso University inflicted a second straight defeat on the Pumas of St. Joe, April 11, on the Collegeville diamond, 6-0. Righthander Scheub, a veteran of three seasons on the Valpo staff, allowed the Pumas but five well-spread bingles, struck out seven, and gave only two bases on balls. off the slim Crusader attained that position in the final frame.

Lefty Don Tesmond pitched creditably for the winless St. Joe nine in absorbing his first setback of the young season. Diminutive Tesmond, who tossed all the way, was tagged for 10 hits, but was hampered in his effectiveness by three miscues and a few mental lapses on the part of his mates. His control was sharp, only one free ticket being granted, and he whiffed five.

Crusaders Break Deadlock

For two stanzas it appeared as though Tesmond and Scheub would be locked in a very firm pitching feud. In two cantos, each team had obtained one blow and both twirlers were sailing along without trouble. In the top of the third, however, the Crusaders gave Scheub a two-run working margin. Third baseman Bill Gray opened with a single to right field and took second as Scheub sacrificed. Second sacker Engert grounded a

News Sports Editor Speaks at Annual Athletic Banquet

William Fox, sports editor of the Indianapolis News, was the principal speaker at the annual spring sports banquet held Tuesday evening, April 26, in the college refectory. Fox's address, toned in a general sports theme centered around St. Joseph's athletic program, highlighted the fete at which monograms were awarded to members of the varsity football and basketball teams.

ND Graduate

Well known in Hoosier sports circles for his several newspaper columns, Fox is a graduate of Notre Dame University and has held the position of sports editor on the News since 1939. He first joined the News editorial staff in 1920 following service in the first World War. Indiana sports fans are well acquainted with his columns "Shootin' 'Em and Stoppin' 'Em" during basketball season; "A Corner in Pigskin" during football season; and "Tearing Firma", devoted to horse-racing and golf yarns. His weekly Saturday feature entitled "The Yarning Basket" is, in his own words, "an assembly of disassociated sentences."

Members of the college athletic board, coaching staff, publicity department, and the championship intramural teams were in attendance, as were varsity football and basketball squad members.

St. Joe Netters To Open Today

St. Joe's clay courtmen wound up four weeks of daily net drills yesterday and prepared to open their schedule this afternoon with Wabash College on the Collegeville courts.

Probable performers in today's matches include Joe Hawkins, Ed Pluth, Andy Davey, Greg Pressnail, and Bob Braithwaite. Braithwaite, a sophomore, is a late-comer to the squad and showed much promise in drills last week.

In Little State Meet

Saturday, Apr. 30, the Cardinal and Purple racket-wielders play hosts to Louisville, and Wednesday, May 4, they travel to Wabash College.

Maroons Belt Four St. Joe Pitchers In Winning 11-4

Seven men reached base for the losers during the first seven rounds via three Windy City errors and four Lackey free tickets. Clarence Kuhn nailed the first legitimate hit, a hopper past first, after Beaven had scratched his hit to Maroon shortstop Sharp.

Farley Club Will Exhibit Stamps, Coins in May 1 Parents' Day Display

The Farley Stamp Club, campus organization of stamp and coin enthusiasts, will hold a philatelic exhibit on Sunday, May 1, as one of the many interesting events of Parents' Day at St. Joseph's. The exhibit will be shown in the reading room of the college library, beginning Saturday evening and continuing through Sunday.

Approximately 50 frames of stamps and other items will be on display. Members of the Farley Club will enter frames of domestic or foreign stamps and coins. Various aspects of collecting will be exemplified: stamps proper in several phases, postal paper, cover types both old and new, cancellations, postal markings, meters, letter slogans, and postal oddities. Efforts will be made to render the exhibits intelligible to non-collector visitors.

Private entries by club members will include covers and stamps by Thomas Minardi, coins by Paul J. Ryan, stamps by Harry Polcyn, John Metzner, Frank Hunter and others. The Rev. Gilbert F. Esser, moderator of the Farley Club, will contribute generously from his extensive collection. There will be frames of attractive stamps from Vatican City, Ireland, Canada, France, the British Empire, South America, as well as numerous items from the United States. Regular issues will be supplemented by the often more interesting commemoratives, air mail, parcel post, special delivery and postage due stamps. Precans (stamps overprinted with cancellation before use in the mail) do not have a champion on the campus, but a small exhibit will illustrate the "precans" phase of philately.

The Farley Stamp Club was organized on the campus in March 1937. The first members were enthusiastic high schoolers, and within a few years they had gained a nationwide recognition through exhibit entries and trophy-winning papers read at regional and national conventions. Postmaster General James A. Farley, for whom the Club was named, sent the charter members a cheery letter and his autographed photo.

Chicago Game

Chuck Gorman opened on the hill for the Scharfmens, but was troubled by lack of control and several untimely errors. Chicago counted four off Gorman in the second stanza on a walk, two mis-cues, and two hits. A triple to deep left field by second baseman Geocarls was the big blow of the inning. Gorman was removed in the following canto in which the Maroons scored four more times to ice the contest. A walk and four singles did the damage and brought Tom Lynch to the mound for the Pumas. The lanky right-hander worked four complete innings prior to bowing out in the eighth behind a three base sock by Chicago rightfielder Edgel. Lynch hurled capably during his tenure, giving two runs and six hits. Pete Perlongo finished for St. Joe and was touched for the final Maroon tally in the ninth inning.

Tom Lynch crossed the plate for the initial St. Joe score in the third inning. Lynch was safe when catcher McKinney allowed a third strike to get by him. He took second on an infield out and was plated when Chicago first baseman Rowland erred on a throw from shortstop Sharp.

The locals finally found the range in the eighth round, but it was too late. After Beaven singled for the first hit, Bohney was safe on a boot by Sharp. Three solid one basers by Clarence Kuhn, Tom Quinn, and Jerry Leahy produced three scores and rounded out the afternoon's scoring.

Rotarians, Lions Hold Meetings

Two Rensselaer organizations held meetings on St. Joseph's campus recently. April 13, 27 Lions Club members dined in the cafeteria, and heard the Revs. Walter Pax, Edward Roof, J. A. Otte, and Mr. Richard Scheiber speak briefly on college operations. April 19, the Rensselaer Rotary Club held their meeting in the cafeteria; Father Pax and Father Otte spoke on the cooperation of St. Joseph's and Rensselaer and on the college's building plans and other projects.

Dramatic Cast

Gramps and Pud, his nine-year-old grandson. When Death, a man by the name of Mr. Brink (Howie Cummings) comes to take Gramps away, Gramps refuses to go. He'd rather live to raise his grandson, Pud (Richie Scharf). Gramps tricks Mr. Brink into an apple tree, and because one of Gramp's wishes comes true, Mr. Brink is forced to remain there until Gramps lets him down.

Word of the strange event gets around and Pud's Aunt Demetria (Vivian Groll) calls Dr. Evans (Utah Cummings) and Mr. Pilbeam (Mike Lehnerd), two old friends of Gramps. Aunt Demetria wants Gramps declared insane so that she can gain the custody of Pud and receive the inheritance left by his father.

Gramps Gets Tough

In trying to prove his sanity and that no one can die until Mr. Brink comes down out of the tree, Gramps empties his old service revolver into the stomach of Mr. Grimes, (John O'Brien) who is attempting to take Gramps to the insane asylum. Even though Grimes doesn't die, Gramps is doomed to the asylum, until he scares off Evans and the Sheriff (Mike Perrini) with the threat of death to them. Two workmen (Don Johnston and Tom Wingo) help to build up the plot.

When the climax of the play nears, Gramps is drowned in a sea of troubles. But a twist ending saves the day for all concerned. Grandma (Ave Hayes) and Marcia (Susan Loch) round out the cast.

Valpo Game

single to right and when the ball bounded off rightfielder Bob Doyle's knee, Gray scored and Engert took second. Engert crossed the plate a moment later when Doyle dropped Harrer's towering fly ball. These two tallies were all that the Valpo ace needed, but for insurance his mates added four more in the fifth inning.

Scheub reached second when his drive to right field eluded Doyle. Engert's one baser chased Scheub home. Shortstop Schwarz popped a single into right center, Engert racing to third. He counted a moment later while Harrer was forcing Schwarz. First baseman Bromberg doubled and he and Harrer rounded out the contest's run production by tallying on Nuendorf's two-base sock to right center.

St. Joe threatened only once and this in the final stanza. With one away Clarence Kuhn walked. After Cy Bohney fanned, Mike Beaven, freshman third baseman, doubled to left center, Kuhn becoming the first Puma to reach third. Bud Greif ended the tussle by lining to third baseman Gray.

Faculty Notes

The Rev. Alfred Zanolar, President of the College, attended a three-day meeting of the National Catholic Educational Association at Philadelphia, last week. He returned to the campus on Saturday.

Seven members of the faculty bade "bon voyage" to His Excellency, the Most Rev. John G. Bennett, Bishop of Lafayette, at a testimonial dinner in Lafayette, last Sunday. His Excellency left yesterday on his "ad limina" visit to Rome and the Holy Father.

The visits "ad limina Apostolorum," that is, to the thresholds of the Apostles, are pilgrimages to the tombs of St. Peter in his Basilica and to the Basilica of St. Paul Outside the Walls. Bishops living outside Europe are required to come to Rome once every ten years to visit the above-mentioned tombs, to confer with the Holy Father, and to report to him on the state of their diocese.

The Fathers attending the farewell dinner were: the Very Rev. Charles Herber, the Revs. Alfred Zanolar, Gilbert Esser, Christian Staab, Joseph Hiller, Rufus Esser and Anthony Gamble.

Frosh Class Begins Work to Raise Funds

Plans for the establishment of a scholarship fund for St. Joseph's College were completed at a meeting of the freshman class, Tuesday, Apr. 12. In order to raise these funds, the freshmen are sponsoring a drawing on a $50 gift certificate redeemable in the college book store, or for a non-student winner, a cash award.

The contest winner will be chosen May 1, before the presentation of the play, On Borrowed Time. Emanuel Cannito, president of the class, speaking of the drawing's purpose hoped that "all students will cooperate actively in the drive." Cannito pointed out that "everyone will profit by the drawing. Both prizes and scholarship are available to any student."

When established the scholarship fund will be divided into two sums, one for a freshman scholarship, and one for upper-classmen. However, those wishing to receive either scholarship must be "on top" in a competitive examination which will be given later in the spring.

Spring Concert Scheduled for May 11

The College Band, Glee Club and Xavier Glee Club will unite efforts to present the Annual Spring Concert, Wednesday, May 11, in the college auditorium. The band will feature a clarinet solo, saxophone trio, and a cornet trio composed by Mr. Tonner for the occasion. There will also be compositions by Rubinstein, Mozowski, Friml, and Sousa, including the famous "Dance of the Hours" from the opera "La Gioconda."

A special arrangement of "The Flight of the Bumblebee" for flute and male chorus, with Philip Powers, baritone, and director, Mr. Daniel Connor, as soloists, will highlight the Glee Club's offerings.

Climaxing the recital, the Xavier Hall Glee Club will sing several numbers and then combine with the College Glee Club and the band for the grand finale.

Speech Contest On Campus

Regional eliminations of the Knights of Columbus oratorical contest were held here Sunday afternoon in the St. Joseph's College Theatre between two Catholic young men representing districts one and eight.

The Gary district winner was John Gallinati and the Lafayette speaker was Charles Meyers. The state-wide K. of C. competition was launched this spring among Catholic junior and senior young men. Chairman of the contest is Thomas Medland of Logansport, state K. of C. treasurer.

Summer Session

requirements for admission as stated in the annual catalog.

3. Non-candidates for degrees who wish to attend for the summer session only need not present evidence of graduation from high school unless they are under twenty-one years of age. If the applicant is a candidate for a degree at another college or university, he must present written approval from the Dean of that institution for the courses for which he wishes to register.

Veterans admitted at the summer session must submit not later than the day of formal registration the Certificate of Eligibility for studies under Public Law 346 or the letter of entitlement for studies under Public Law 16. Otherwise, they must register as non-veterans and pay the necessary fees.

Six semester hours of credit is the maximum which may be earned in the six-week session. Three morning periods of 75 minutes each will be utilized for classes, Monday through Saturday.

The following courses are offered: Introductory Botany; Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy; General Inorganic Chemistry and Qualitative Analysis; Money and Banking; Insurance; Educational Psychology of Childhood; Philosophy of Education; Teaching Reading in Elementary Schools; The Victorian Age; Children's Literature; Church History (Early and Medieval); United States History to 1812; History of Russia since 1796; College Algebra; Plane Trigonometry; Plane Analytical Geometry; Introduction to Philosophy; General Psychology; Logic; Ethics; Apologetics; The Catholic Church; Spiritual Life and Catholic Worship; The Development of Western Institutions; and World Geography.

Further information may be easily obtained by consulting the Rev. Walter Pax, Dean of the College, or by calling at the Office of the Registrar. Catalogs of the Summer Session are available at the latter office.

The Albertus Magnus Society is sponsoring its annual Science Day Exhibit, May 1, in conjunction with Parents' Day on the campus. Approximately 85 local high schools have been invited to view the exhibition which will take place from one to six p.m.

The Biology and Geology Departments will have individual displays, all of which will pertain to daily living. The Physics Department will display the Tesla Coil producing current, a two-way F. M. broadcasting receiver, a miniature electric plant, and the building of an amplifier.

Exhibit Slides

Various interesting methods of preparing and staining slides, the dissection of animals, and many biological specimens will be shown by the Biology Department.

The theme This Earth We Walk On will be featured in the Geology exhibit. This will include the geology of Jasper County, the study of fossils, structural and petroleum geology, economic geology, and mapping and surveying.

Science on the Farm

The Chemistry Exhibit has chosen Science On The Farm as its theme. Some of the questions to be answered by its demonstrations are: Is your soil acid, alkaline, or neutral? Can you produce plants that are green and healthy? Other questions include the ability to fit your soil to your needs, and the analysis of various substances commonly found on farms, such as butter, milk, and water.

Officers of the Albertus Magnus Society are: John Weis, President; Ed Taphorn, Vice President; Victor Toeppe, Secretary; and Jim Causland, Treasurer. Chairmen for the divisions of the Science Day Exhibit are: Jim Causland, Chemistry; George Bobalik, Physics; Ed Tomko, Geology; Paul Pollack, Biology; and Dick Mosher, Mathematics. Moderator of the Society is the Rev. Albert A. Wuest.
